Finding a book in the library

Hi my name is Jia and I'm a student at the University of Brighton that I'm also a student helper at Queenwood library and today I'm going to show you how to find a book in the library.

I'm looking for a book on research methods so if you want to follow me to the library catalogue and we'll have a look there. So, I found the book that I want on the library catalogue and if I scroll down and drop down this number which is the Dewey number which tells me where I can find it in the library and we'll go and look for the book.

Now all the libraries have signage on the walls to show you which floor and which area of the library your book is located in.

All the books have numbers on the spines and these are the Dewey numbers that I mentioned before. So, the numbers run from the top of the bay to the bottom of the bay so you find the book by going through the numerical order first.

So I'm looking for six five eight point zero zero seven two and that's right here.

And then you go by alphabetical order and it's usually the first three letters of the author's name.

So my book is right here and I'll just go down to the Help Desk to check it out.

If you still can't find the book that you want just come down to the Help Desk and the lovely staff will help you.

So, I've got the book that I wanted I'm going to check it out and I'm gonna go back to studying.
